

Wedding Bells.

JESSUP—AINSWORTH.

On Tuesday, July 12, the Wesley Church, Northam, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, the contracting parties being Mr C. J. Jessup, son of Mr and Mrs B. Jessup, of Guildford Rd, to Annie, eldest daughter of Mrs Ainsworth, and the late Mr T. W. Ainsworth, of Heywood, Victoria. The church, which was prettily decorated with arches and a large wedding bell, was filled with well wishers of the bride and bridegroom. The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, Mr N. H. Ainsworth, and looked charming in a rich gown of cream peau-de-souris, with long train, the tucks being hemmed with narrow ribbon, with tunic over skirt of richly embroidered cream cotton panel, drawn into pointed pastel ornaments at foot, swathed bodice, tucked chiffon yoke and sleeves. The trained skirt and bodice were trimmed with silver trimming. Two sweet, little train bearers, Dorris Addicoat and Ivy Jeffries were gowned in cream silk frocks, very short bodices, with tucked net sleeves and yoke, trimmed with silk applique cream silk straw hats with strings and trimmed with cream ribbon, cream shoes and socks. They carried baskets of Cloth of Gold roses and violets, tied with pale yellow streamers. Miss Ruby Jessup wore a pretty frock of cream voile, trimmed with cream moire silk, with silk net yoke and sleeves with cream Napoleon silk straw hat and gold galon. Miss Maude Ainsworth, cream silk dress, with silk net yoke and sleeves, Dollar Princess skirt, cream silk straw picture hat, trimmed with silk ribbon and gold galon. They carried lovely bouquets of Cloth of Gold roses, tied with pale yellow streamers, the four bridesmaids wearing gold and ruby Southern Cross brooches, and carried bouquets, the gifts of the bridegroom. The mother of the bride was gowned in black silk jetted net over white, black picture hat trimmed with black sequin and ostrich feathers. The best man was Mr F. Jessup. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. J. G. Jenkin. The singing of the hymn, The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden, greeted the bride as she entered the church, and as the newly wedded pair left the church the Wedding March was played. A reception, and afterwards the wedding breakfast was held in the Parish Hall, at which about 40 guests were present. The guests were received by the mother of the bride and Mrs. Jeffreys, sister of the bridegroom. The Rev. J. G. Jenkin presided, and in an appropriate speech proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom, while other toasts incidental to the occasion were also honored. The happy couple left by the evening train for the city amidst much cannonading by the bridegroom's fellow workers. The bride's traveling dress was of cream canvas over pale yellow glace, trimmed insertion, silk net yoke and sleeves, pleated skirt banded with silk, swathed bodice, a large mauve picture hat trimmed with clusters of lilac and gold lace, white fox furs en suite. In the evening there were a large number of friends at the hall, and a most enjoyable time was spent. Dancing, singing and cards were indulged in until midnight, when the proceedings terminated. The presents were numerous and costly, amongst the number being: Bridegroom to bride, gold hangle; bride to bridegroom, oak and silver inkstand, with name inscribed; bridegroom to bridesmaids and little train bearers, gold Southern Cross brooches; mother of bride, bed linen and point lace runner; parents of bridegroom, silver teapot; Mr and Mrs Jeffrey, dinner set; Mr Harry Ainsworth, cheque; Mr E. Pergandil (Vic.), silver salt cellars in case; Mrs Davis, door mats; Miss Linda Davis, sugar basin and jug; Mr. Bight, silver and glass flower stand; Mr Tom Ainsworth, silver sugar scuttle; Mr Bear, silver afternoon tea spoons in case; Mr and Mrs Elson, s.m. pickle jar; Mr E. Jessup and Miss Woodhams, pickle jar in silver stand; Mr and Mrs Carroll, dainty tea set; Rev and Mrs. Jenkin, salt shakers; Miss Ruby Jessup, flower stand and silver coffee strainer; Mr and Mrs P. L. Dale, silver bread fork, butter and jam spoon in case; Messrs Russell, Whiteley and Stokes, dinner set; Mr S. Davey, s.m. salad bowl; Miss N. Aitken and Miss Tankard, serviettes; Mr and Mrs Hastings, picture; Mr and Mrs Bradley, cheese dish and serviettes; Miss Bradley, bread knife; Mr C. Ainsworth, s.m. pickle jar; Mr and Mrs Addicoat, set of carvers in case; Mr and Mrs J. Leader, set of glasses; Master Leo Leader, bedroom lamp; Mr Swanberg and Miss Dare, cut glass jam dish; Our Boys, Loco. Department, beautiful silver mounted salad bowl, silver pin and stud boxes; Mrs. Cody, and Miss Connell, set of dainty flower stands; Miss May Turner, silver and glass tray; Mr and Miss Shaw, s.m. biscuit barrel; Mr and Mrs A. Martin and family, silver butterdish; Mr and Mrs Kirkman, clock; Mr Clark and Miss R. Best, s.m. jam dish; Mr Potter and Miss Beasley, jam dish in silver stand; Mr and Mrs Morris, damask supper cloth; Mr and Mrs A. Smith, a cheque; Mr Edlington and Miss Bassett, silver butter dish; Miss Sanderson, pretty set of furs; Miss Ivy Jeffreys, toilet doyles; Mr and Mrs Corte, water jug and set of glasses; Mr S. Gibson, silver butter knife and jam spoon in case; Mr and Mrs F. Jessup, silver cruet; Miss N. Castledine and Mr H. E. Henley, cream bow and sugar basin in silver stand.

Castroome and Mr H. E. Henley, cream bow and sugar basin in silver stand; Misses Cortl, cushions; Miss Ring, cut glass salt cellars; Miss Doris Addicoat, box of sweets in satin case; Master Jim and Leo Addicoat, handkerchiefs; Miss Maude and Belle Ainsworth, decanter and set of glasses; Miss Carroll, set of dolyes; Mr and Mrs Brewer (Midland Junction), church service; Cousin Tom and Maria, shaving mug and silver egg cruet; Mr C. H. Towler, silver tea pot; Mr W. J. Jessup, cheque; Mr and Mrs.
Hanley, serviettes; Mr and Mrs Angus-in (Subiaco), jardiniere and s.m. biscuit barrell; Mr W. Jessup, cheque; Mr and Mrs G. Cowell (uncle and aunt of the bride, Ballarat), beautiful wedding cake.