

Wedding Bells.

BROWNING—McBRIDE.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnised at St. John's Church, Northam, on August 12 by the Rev. A. L. Marshall. The contracting parties were Mr G. C. Browning and Maude, the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs McBride, of East Northam. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in a fancy voile dress trimmed with silk fringe and insertion, the usual wreath and veil being worn. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Lily McBride, sister of the bride, wore a dainty cream frock of cream voile, trimmed with silk insertion, and large black hat, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses, jonquils and fern. Mr James Browning, brother of the bridegroom carried out the duties of best man. After the ceremony the guests adjourned to the residence of the bride's parents, where light refreshments were partaken of, and the usual toasts were honored. The happy couple left for Perth, where the honeymoon was spent, the bride travelling in a dress of navy blue cloth, and a becoming black hat. The presents were pretty and useful.
