Mr. Christmass was about 30 years of age and was unmarried. The cortege then proceeded to the Anglican portion of the Northam cemetery, where the remains were interred in the presence of a large assemblage. The chief mourners were Messrs. Charles and Edward Christmass (brothers of the deceased). The pallbearers were Messrs. F. O'Rourke, J. H. Matthews and H. Wenlock, of Grass Valley; E. Dudley, Wesley Carter and T. Sinclair.

There was a beautiful assortment of wreaths from "Sorrowing Mother," Archie, Dave and Ruby; Juendine friends; Ruth and Fred; Mr. and Mrs. T. Sinclair; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hitchcock; Ned and Jim; Ethel, Eva and Sadie; Niece Mable, Susie, Charlie and family; Mary and Will; Sister and Brother Florrie and Fred; Sister and Brother Ada and George; Elsie and Don; and W. J. Stewart and Sons.

The mortuary arrangements were in the hands of Mr. J. W. Purslowe.
